AWARE, INC.
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(unaudited)

Note 1 – Description of the Company and Basis of Presentation

Description of the Company

We are a global leader in biometrics software offerings and solutions. Our portfolio enables government agencies and commercial entities to enroll, identify, authenticate and enable using biometrics, which comprise physiological characteristics, such as fingerprints, faces, irises and voices.

- Enroll: Register biometric identities into an organization's secure database
- Identify: Utilize an organization's secure database to accurately identify individuals using biometric data
- Authenticate: Provide frictionless multi-factor, passwordless access to secured accounts and databases with biometric verification
- Enable: Manage the lifecycle of secure identities through optimized biometric interchanges

We have been engaged in this business since 1993. Our comprehensive portfolio of biometric solutions is based on innovative, robust products designed explicitly for ease of integration, including customer-managed and integration ready biometric frameworks, platforms, software development kits (SDKs) and services. Principal government applications of biometrics systems include border control, visa applicant screening, law enforcement, national defense, intelligence, secure credentialing, access control, and background checks. Principal commercial applications include mobile enrollment, user authentication, identity proofing, and secure transaction enablement.

Our products span multiple biometric modalities including fingerprint, face, iris and voice, and provide interoperable, standards-compliant, field-proven biometric functionality. Our products are used to capture, verify, format, compress and decompress biometric images as well as aggregate, analyze, process, match and transport those images and templates within biometric systems. For large deployments, we may provide project management and software engineering services. We sell our biometrics software products and services globally through a multifaceted distribution strategy using systems integrators, original equipment manufacturers (OEMs), value added resellers (VARs), partners, and directly to end user customers.

Certain amounts in the consolidated financial statements and associated notes may not add due to rounding. All percentages have been calculated using unrounded amounts.

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the instructions for Form 10-Q and therefore do not include all information and notes necessary for a complete presentation of our financial position, results of operations and cash flows, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. We filed audited financial statements which included all information and notes necessary for such presentation for the two years ended December 31, 2022 in conjunction with our 2022 Annual Report on Form 10-K. This Form 10-Q should be read in conjunction with that Form 10-K.

The accompanying unaudited consolidated balance sheets, statements of operations and comprehensive loss, statements of cash flows, and statements of stockholders' equity reflect all adjustments (consisting only of normal recurring items) which are, in the opinion of management, necessary for a fair presentation of financial position at June 30, 2023, and of operations and cash flows for the interim periods ended June 30, 2023 and 2022.

The results of operations for the interim periods ended June 30, 2023 are not necessarily indicative of the results to be expected for the year.

Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Aware, Inc. and its subsidiaries, Aware Security Corporation and Fortr3ss, Inc. Intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of our consolidated financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires us to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amount of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. The most significant estimates included in the financial statements pertain to revenue recognition, reserves for credit losses, valuation of the contingent acquisition payment, valuation of the investment in the note receivable, goodwill and long-lived asset impairment and valuation allowance for deferred income tax assets. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In October 2021, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) issued Accounting Standard Update (“ASU”) No. 2021-08, Business Combinations (Topic 805): Accounting for Contract Assets and Contract Liabilities from Contracts with Customers. The ASU requires contract assets and contract liabilities to be accounted for as if they (“the acquirer”) entered into the original contract at the same time and same date as the acquiree. The guidance is effective for reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2022, with early adoption permitted. The adoption of this update did not have a material impact on our consolidated financial statements.

In June 2016, the FASB issued ASU 2016-13, Financial Instruments – Credit Losses (Topic 326): Measurement of Credit Losses of Financial Instruments, which changes the methodology for measuring credit losses on financial instruments and the timing of when such losses are recorded. This guidance was to be effective for reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2019, with early adoption permitted. In November 2019, the FASB issued ASU 2019-10, Financial Instruments – Credit Losses (Topic 326), Derivatives and Hedging (Topic 815), and Leases (Topic 842) Effective Dates, which deferred the effective dates for us, as a smaller reporting company, until fiscal year 2023. The adoption of this update did not have a material impact on our consolidated financial statements.

Note 2 – Revenue Recognition

We recognize revenue in accordance with Accounting Standards Codification (“ASC”) Topic 606, “Revenue from Contracts with Customers” (“ASC 606”). Under ASC 606, we apply the following five step model:

1. Identify the contract with the customer;
2. Identify the performance obligations in the contract;
3. Determine the transaction price;
4. Allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract; and
5. Recognize revenue when (or as) each performance obligation is satisfied.

We categorize revenue as software licenses, software maintenance, or services and other. Revenue from software licenses is recognized at a point in time upon delivery, provided all other revenue recognition criteria are met. We recognize software maintenance revenue over time on a straight-line basis over the contract period. Services revenue is recognized over time as the services are delivered using an input method (i.e., labor hours incurred as a percentage of total labor hours budgeted), provided all other revenue recognition criteria are met. Other revenue, includes hardware sales that may be included in a software license, is recognized at a point in time upon delivery provided all other revenue recognition criteria are met.

In addition to selling software licenses, software maintenance and software services on a standalone basis, a significant portion of our contracts include multiple performance obligations, which require an allocation of the transaction price to each distinct performance obligation based on a relative standalone selling price

(“SSP”) basis. The SSP is the price at which we would sell a promised good or service separately to a customer. The best estimate of SSP is the observable price of a good or service when we sell that good or service separately. A contractually stated price or a list price for a good or service may be the SSP of that good or service. We use a range of selling prices to estimate SSP when we sell each of the goods and services separately and need to determine whether there is a discount that needs to be allocated based on the relative SSP of the various goods and services within multiple performance obligation arrangements. In instances where SSP is not directly observable, such as when we do not sell the product or service separately, we typically determine the SSP using an adjusted market assessment approach using information that may include market conditions and other observable inputs. We typically have more than one SSP for individual goods and services due to the stratification of those goods and services by customer. In these instances, we may use information such as the nature of the customer and distribution channel in determining the SSP.

When software licenses and significant customization engineering services are sold together, they are accounted for as a combined performance obligation, as the software licenses are generally highly dependent on, and interrelated with, the associated customization services and therefore are not distinct performance obligations. Revenue for the combined performance obligation is recognized over time as the services are delivered using an input method (i.e., labor hours incurred as a percentage of total labor hours budgeted).

When subscription-based software is sold, the subscription-based software and software maintenance are generally considered distinct performance obligations. The transaction price is allocated to subscription-based software and the software maintenance based on the relative SSP of each performance obligation. We sell subscription-based software for a fixed fee and/or a usage-based royalty fee, sometimes subject to a minimum guarantee. When the amount is in the form of a fixed fee, including the guaranteed minimum in subscription-based royalties, revenue is allocated to the subscription-based software and recognized at a point in time upon delivery, provided all other revenue recognition criteria are met. Revenue allocated to the software maintenance is recognized over the contract term on a straight-line basis. Any subscription-based software fees earned not subject to the guaranteed minimum or earned in excess of the minimum amount are recognized as revenue when the subsequent usage occurs.

Our contracts can include variable fees, such as the option to purchase additional usage of a previously delivered software license. We may also provide pricing concessions to clients, a business practice that also gives rise to variable fees in contracts. We include variable fees in the determination of total transaction price if it is not probable that a future significant reversal of revenue will occur. We use the expected value or most likely value amount, whichever is more appropriate for specific circumstances, to estimate variable consideration, and the estimates are based on the level of historical price concessions offered to clients.

The amount of consideration is not adjusted for a significant financing component if the time between payment and the transfer of the related good or service is expected to be one year or less under the practical expedient in the guidance. Our revenue arrangements are typically accounted for under such expedient, as payment is typically due within 30 to 60 days. During the periods ended June 30, 2023 and 2022, none of our contracts contained a significant financing component.

Also, to the extent relevant in future periods with our acquisition of FortressID and adaption of our current products to be delivered in a hosted environment with AwareID, we expect to recognize revenue from our SaaS offerings in future periods. SaaS offerings will be recognized ratably over the subscription period. For the three and six months ended June 30, 2023 and 2022 we did not generate revenue from SaaS contracts.

Disaggregation of Revenues

We organize ourselves into a single segment that reports to the Chief Executive Officer who is our chief operating decision maker. We conduct our operations in the United States and sell our products and services to domestic and international customers. Revenue generated from the following geographic regions was (in thousands):

Revenue from subscription-based contracts include revenue that may be recognized at a point in time or over time and be part of a fixed fee and or minimum guarantee as well as fees earned and allocated to software maintenance.

Contract Balances

When the timing of our delivery of goods or services is different from the timing of payments made by customers, we recognize either a contract asset (performance precedes contractual due date) or a contract liability (customer payment precedes performance). Customers that prepay are represented by the deferred revenue below until the performance obligation is satisfied.

Our contract assets consist of unbilled receivables. Our contract liabilities consist of deferred (unearned) revenue, which is generally related to software maintenance contracts. We classify deferred revenue as current or noncurrent based on the timing of when we expect to recognize revenue.

The following tables present changes in our contract assets and liabilities during the three and six months ended June 30, 2023 and 2022 (in thousands):

Remaining Performance Obligations

Remaining performance obligations represent the transaction prices from contracts for which work has not been performed or goods and services have not been delivered. We expect to recognize revenue on approximately 85% of the remaining deferred revenue over the next 12 months, with the remainder recognized thereafter. As of June 30, 2023, the aggregate amount of the transaction prices allocated to remaining performance obligations for contracts with a duration greater than one year was $ 4.0 million.

Note 3 – Fair Value Measurements

The FASB Codification defines fair value and establishes a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The three levels of the fair value hierarchy under the FASB Codification are: Level 1 – valuations that are based on quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the reporting entity has the ability to access at the measurement date; Level 2 – valuations that are based on quoted prices in markets that are not active or for which all significant inputs are observable, either directly or indirectly; and Level 3 – valuations that require inputs that are both significant to the fair value measurement and unobservable.

Cash and cash equivalents, which primarily include money market mutual funds were $3.3 million and $11.7 million as of June 30, 2023 and December 31, 2022, respectively. Marketable securities, which primarily include U.S. Treasuries and corporate bonds, were $21.7 million and $17.2 million as of June 30, 2023 and December 31, 2022, respectively. Our assets and liabilities that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis included the following (in thousands):

Our investments in marketable securities are classified as available-for-sale and are carried at fair value, with the unrealized gains and losses, net of tax, reported as a component of accumulated other comprehensive loss in stockholders' equity.

The investment in the Note Receivable ("Note") with Omlis Limited ("Omlis"), a limited company incorporated and registered in England and Wales and the parent of MIRCAL Technologies Limited ("MIRACL"), and the total carrying value of the investment of $2.7 million and $2.6 million is representative of the fair value of the investment as of June 30, 2023 and December 31, 2022, respectively. During the three and six months ended June 30, 2023 and for the year ended December 31, 2022, there were no changes in the underlying assumptions of the Note. The change in fair value during the three and six months ended June 30 2023 and for the year ended December 31, 2022 was the result of accrued interest.

In December 2021, we acquired 100% of the outstanding shares and acquired all of the assets and liabilities of FortressID for a purchase price of $3.4 million, which consisted of $2.5 million of cash consideration and contingent acquisition payments which were fair valued at $0.9 million at the acquisition date. The maximum contingent acquisition payments at the time of the acquisition was $4.0 million and required cash payments of up to $2.0 million for set revenue targets in 2022 and another $2.0 million for set revenue targets in 2023. No revenue targets were achieved in 2022 and the maximum contingent acquisition payment as of June 30, 2023 is $2.0 million. The fair value of our contingent acquisition payment was determined using a Monte Carlo simulation and there was no material change in fair value from December 31, 2022 to June 30, 2023 due to no change in forecasted revenue and a de minimis impact from the present value factor.

Changes in the Note receivable balance consisted of the following (in thousands):

	Six Months Ended June 30, 2023

Note 4 – Intangible Assets

Intangible assets and their estimated useful lives as of June 30, 2023 are as follows (dollars in thousands):

	Useful Life	Gross Amount	Accumulated Amortization	Net Book Value

During the three and six months ended June 30, 2023, we recorded $0.1 million and $0.2 million, respectively, of intangible assets amortization expense and during the three and six months ended June 30, 2022, we recorded $0.1 million and $0.2 million, respectively, of intangible assets amortization expense. We expect to record amortization expense for the remainder of 2023 and each subsequent year and thereafter as follows (in thousands):

Note 5 – Subscription Agreement

On March 11, 2022, concurrently with our entry into a mutual reseller arrangement with MIRACL Technologies Limited (“MIRACL”), we entered into a subscription agreement with Omlis Limited, a limited company incorporated and registered in England and Wales and the parent of MIRACL (“Omlis”). We purchased $2.5 million of Omlis’ Note Receivable (“Note”) that accrues interest at 5% annually with a maturity date of March 11, 2026.

Prior to maturity, we have the right to convert the Note into the securities issued in a future financing at a 20% discount from the price per share paid by the investors in that financing. If the Note remains outstanding on the maturity date, the Note shall, at the option of the holders of a majority of the outstanding Note, (i) be converted into the most senior shares in Omlis, (ii) be redeemed by payment in cash of the Note and all accrued but unpaid interest or (iii) remain outstanding.

In connection with the sale of the Note, Omlis granted us a right of first refusal for 18 months with respect to any proposed sale by Omlis of equity securities constituting 20% or more of the outstanding voting power of Omlis or all or substantially all of the assets of Omlis or any of its material subsidiaries. Also, in connection with the sale of the Note, Omlis issued the Company a warrant that expires on September 11, 2023, which allows us to purchase up to 8% of the total equity shares in Omlis at a price per share of $33.91.

We recorded the Note and warrants at their fair values in accordance with ASC 825, Financial Instruments, for the Note and ASC 815, Derivatives and Hedging, for the warrants, which were $2.7 million and $0, respectively as of June 30, 2023. Interest income of $31 thousand and $62 thousand was earned during the three and six month periods ended June 30, 2023, respectively. Interest income of $31 thousand and $38 thousand was earned during the three and six month periods ended June 30, 2022, respectively. The $163 thousand in accrued interest is included in the fair value of the note as of June 30, 2023. We assigned a value of $0 to the warrant, since the value was deemed de minimis and was not an integral part of the investment.

Note 6 – Computation of Earnings per Share

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing net income or loss by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding. Diluted earnings per share is computed by dividing net income or loss by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding plus additional common shares that would have been outstanding if dilutive potential common shares had been issued. For the purposes of this calculation, stock options are considered common stock equivalents in periods in which they have a dilutive effect. Stock options that are anti-dilutive are excluded from the calculation. Potential common stock equivalents were not included in the per share calculation for diluted earnings per share where we had a net loss and the effect of their inclusion would be anti-dilutive.

Note 7– Equity and Stock-based compensation

The following table presents stock-based compensation expenses included in our unaudited consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss (in thousands):

	Three Months Ended June 30,		Six Months Ended June 30,
	2023	2022	2023	2022
Cost of services and other revenue	$ 4	$ 7	$ 8	$ 12

General and administrative	315	293	560	541
Stock-based compensation expense	$ 403	$ 378	$ 738	$ 808

Stock Options - We did not grant stock options in the three or six months ended June 30, 2023 or 2022.

Unrestricted Stock Grants - Our 2001 Nonqualified Stock Plan permits us to grant shares of unrestricted shares of stock to our directors, officers, and employees. Stock-based compensation expense for stock grants is determined based on the fair market value of our stock on the date of grant, provided the number of shares in the grant is fixed on the grant date.

We did not grant any shares of unrestricted stock during the three months ended June 30, 2023. In the six months ended June 30, 2023 we granted an aggregate of 134,211 shares of unrestricted stock. Of the shares granted in the six months ended June 30, 2023, 67,105 shares were issued shortly after June 30, 2023 and the remaining shares are scheduled to be issued shortly after December 31, 2023, provided that the applicable each grantee is serving as a director, officer or employee as of that date.

We did not grant any shares of unrestricted stock during the three months ended June 30, 2022. In the six months ended June 30, 2022 we granted an aggregate 107,921 shares of unrestricted stock. We issued 61,460 and 46,461 of these shares shortly after June 30, 2022 and December 31, 2022, respectively.

Share Purchases - On March 1, 2022, our Board of Directors authorized a new stock repurchase program pursuant to which we may purchase up to $10.0 million of our common stock, of which $1.7 million has been repurchased as of June 30, 2023. During the three and six months ended June 30, 2023 we purchased zero and 190,908 shares of our common stock, respectively. During the three and six months ended June 30, 2022 we did not purchase any shares of our common stock. The shares may be purchased from time to time in the open market or through privately negotiated transactions at management's discretion, depending upon market conditions and other factors. The authorization to repurchase shares of our common stock expires on December 31, 2023. Repurchases will be made under the program using our own cash resources and will be in accordance with Rule 10b5-1 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, and other applicable laws, rules and regulations, which may permit repurchases to occur during periods when we might otherwise be precluded from making purchases under insider trading laws or company policy. The program does not obligate us to acquire any particular amount of common stock and the program may be modified or suspended at any time at our Board of Director's discretion.

Note 8 – Income Taxes

During the three and six months ended June 30, 2023 and 2022, we recorded no income tax benefits for the net operating losses incurred or for the research and development tax credits generated due to the uncertainty of realizing a benefit from those items.

We have evaluated the positive and negative evidence bearing upon our ability to realize our deferred tax assets, which primarily consist of net operating loss carryforwards and research and development tax credits. We considered the history of cumulative net losses, estimated future taxable income and prudent and feasible tax planning strategies and we have concluded that it is more likely than not that we will not realize the benefits of our deferred tax assets. As a result, as of June 30, 2023 and December 31, 2022, we recorded a full valuation allowance against our net deferred tax assets.

The carryback of the estimated loss would result in a refundable federal tax credit of approximately $1.4 million and an increase in research credit carryforwards previously utilized. The federal tax credit can be refunded in the future, as we decided to carry back the loss reported on the filed 2020 tax return. Upon filing our 2020 tax return and the related carry back claim that is on file with the IRS as of June 30, 2023, we classified the federal tax credit as a current receivable which has yet to be received as of June 30, 2023. Due to the recent loss history, continued investments in the Company, and our future projections of income, we will benefit from the 2020 loss to the extent of the available tax refund and will maintain a full valuation allowance on all other deferred tax assets, including any increase in research credit carryforward resulting from a potential carryback.

Summary of Operations

We are primarily engaged in the development and sale of biometrics products, solutions and services. Our software products are used in government and commercial systems and applications and fulfill a broad range of functions critical to secure biometric enrollment, authentication, identification and transactions. Principal government applications of biometrics systems include border control, visa applicant screening, law enforcement, national defense, intelligence, secure credentialing, access control, and background checks. Principal commercial applications include: i) user enrollment and authentication used for login to mobile devices, computers, networks, and software programs; ii) user authentication for financial transactions and purchases (online and in-person); iii) physical access control to buildings; and iv) identity proofing of prospective employees and customers. We sell our biometrics software products and services globally through a multifaceted distribution strategy using systems integrators, OEMs, VARs, partners, and directly to end user customers. We also derive a portion of our revenue from the sale of imaging software licenses to OEMs and systems integrators that incorporate our software into medical imaging products and medical systems.

Summary of Financial Results

We use revenue and results of operations to summarize financial results as we believe these measurements are the most meaningful way to understand our operating performance.

Revenue and operating loss for the three months ended June 30, 2023 were $3.2 million and $2.9 million, respectively. These results compared to revenue of $4.2 million and operating loss of $1.4 million for the three months ended June 30, 2022. The decrease in revenue and the increase in operating loss in the current three month period was primarily due to a decrease in software license revenue.

Revenue and operating loss for the six months ended June 30, 2023 were $7.5 million and $4.8 million, respectively. These results compared to revenue of $8.9 million and operating loss of $2.6 million for the six months ended June 30, 2022. The decrease in revenue and the increase in operating loss in the current six month period was primarily due to a decrease in software license revenue.

These and all other financial results are discussed in more detail in the results of operations section that follows.

Results of Operations

Software licenses. Software licenses consist of revenue from the sale of biometrics and imaging software products. Sales of software products depend on our ability to win proposals to supply software for biometrics systems projects either directly to end user customers or indirectly through channel partners.

Software license revenue decreased 49% from $2.0 million in the three months ended June 30, 2022 to $1.0 million in the same three month period in 2023. As a percentage of total revenue, software license revenue decreased from 48% in the second quarter of 2022 to 33% in the current year quarter. The $1.0 million decrease in software license revenue was due primarily to a decrease in perpetual licenses sales which historically fluctuate and we expect software license revenue to continue to fluctuate since they are based on the timing of projects with our customers and partners.

Software license revenue decreased 32% from $4.6 million in the six months ended June 30, 2022 to $3.1 million in the same six month period in 2023. As a percentage of total revenue, software license revenue decreased from 52% in the six months ended June 30, 2022 to 42% in the current year period. The $1.5 million decrease in software license revenue was due primarily to a decrease in perpetual licenses sales which historically fluctuate and we expect software license revenue to continue to fluctuate since they are based on the timing of projects with our customers and partners.

Our market strategy is to continue to focus on our legacy government biometrics markets and expand into new commercial biometrics markets. We are unable to predict future revenue from commercial markets as these are emerging markets.

Software maintenance. Software maintenance consists of revenue from the sale of software maintenance contracts. Software maintenance contracts entitle customers to receive software support and software updates, if and when they become available, during the term of the contract.

Software maintenance revenue was $1.8 million in each of the three months ended June 30, 2023 and 2022. As a percentage of total revenue, software maintenance revenue increased from 43% in the second quarter of 2022 to 55% in the current year quarter.

Software maintenance revenue increased 3% from $3.5 million in the six months ended June 30, 2022 to $3.6 million in the same six month period in 2023. As a percentage of total revenue, software maintenance revenue increased from 39% in the six months ended June 30, 2022 to 48% in the current year period.

For the six month period ended June 30 2023, the increase in software maintenance revenue was primarily due to software maintenance related to our subscription based licenses.

Services and other revenue. Services revenue consists of fees we charge to perform software development, integration, installation, and customization services. Similar to software license revenue, services revenue depends on our ability to win biometrics systems projects either directly with end user customers or in conjunction with channel partners. Other revenue consists of hardware fees that are included with some of our software licenses. Services and other revenue will fluctuate when we commence new projects and/or when we complete projects that were started in previous periods.

Services and other revenue was $0.4 million in each of the three months ended June 30, 2023 and 2022 and 12% and 9% of total revenue in each three months ended June 30, 2023 and 2022, respectively

Services and other revenue decreased 7% from $0.8 million in the six months ended June 30, 2022 to $0.7 million in the same six month period in 2023. As a percentage of total revenue, services and other revenue increased from 9% of total revenue in the six months ended June 30, 2022 to 10% in the current year period.

Cost of services and other revenue. Cost of services and other revenue consists primarily of engineering costs to perform customer services projects and other third-party costs that are included with some of our software licenses. Such costs primarily include: i) engineering salaries, stock-based compensation, fringe benefits, and facilities; ii) engineering consultants and contractors; iii) software license fees; and iv) hardware costs.

Cost of services and other revenue was $0.3 million in each of the three months ended June 30, 2023 and 2022. Cost of services and other revenue as a percentage of services and other revenue increased from 81% in the second quarter of 2022 to 86% in the current year quarter.

Cost of services and other revenue was $0.6 million in each of the six months ended June 30, 2023 and 2022. Cost of services and other revenue as a percentage of services and other revenue increased from 79% in the six months ended June 30, 2022 to 84% in the current year period.

The increase in cost of services and other revenue as a percentage of services and other revenue was primarily due to lower service and other revenue resulting from less active contracts with services during the period.

Gross margins on services and other revenue are a function of: i) the nature of the projects; ii) the level of engineering difficulty and labor hours required to complete project tasks; and iii) how much we were able to charge. We expect that gross margins on services and other revenue will continue to fluctuate in future periods based on the nature, complexity, and pricing of future projects.

Research and development expense. Research and development expense consists of costs for: i) engineering personnel, including salaries, stock-based compensation, fringe benefits, and facilities; ii) engineering consultants and contractors, and iii) other engineering expenses such as supplies, equipment depreciation, dues and memberships and travel. Engineering costs incurred to develop our technology and products are classified as research and development expense. As described in the cost of services section, engineering costs incurred to provide engineering services for customer projects are classified as cost of services and other revenue, and are not included in research and development expense.

The classification of total engineering costs to research and development expense and cost of services and other revenue was (in thousands):

	Three Months Ended June 30,		Six Months Ended June 30,
	2023	2022	2023	2022
Research and development expense	$ 2,265	$ 2,229	$ 4,646	$ 4,653
Cost of services and other revenue	325	324	623	638
Total engineering costs	$ 2,590	$ 2,553	$ 5,269	$ 5,291

Total engineering costs were $2.6 million in each of the three months ended June 30, 2023 and 2022. As a percentage of total revenue, total engineering costs increased from 60% in the three months ended June 30, 2022 to 81% in the same current year quarter in 2023.

Total engineering costs were $5.3 million in each of the six months ended June 30, 2023 and 2022. As a percentage of total revenue, total engineering costs increased from 59% in the six months ended June 30, 2022 to 70% in the same current year period in 2023.

We anticipate that we will continue to focus our future research and development activities on enhancing our existing products and developing new products with our growing internal resources.

Selling and marketing expense. Selling and marketing expense primarily consists of costs for: i) sales and marketing personnel, including salaries, sales commissions, stock-based compensation, fringe benefits, travel, and facilities; and ii) advertising and promotion expenses.

Selling and marketing expense increased 38% from $1.4 million in the three months ended June 30, 2022 to $2.0 million in the same three month period of 2023. As a percentage of total revenue, selling and marketing expense increased from 38% in the second quarter of 2022 to 49% in the corresponding period in 2023.

Selling and marketing expense increased 24% from $3.2 million in the six months ended June 30, 2022 to $3.9 million in the same six month period of 2023. As a percentage of total revenue, selling and marketing expense increased from 36% in the six months ended June 30, 2022 to 53% in the corresponding period in 2023.

The spending increase for the three and six months ended June 30, 2023, compared to the same prior year period was primarily due to higher employee costs as a result of increased headcount and contracted sales agents.

We expect to expand our sales and marketing force to address additional opportunities.

General and administrative expense. General and administrative expense consists primarily of costs for: i) officers, directors and administrative personnel, including salaries, bonuses, director compensation, stock-based compensation, fringe benefits, and facilities; ii) professional fees, including legal and audit fees; iii) public company expenses; and iv) other administrative expenses, such as insurance costs and bad debt provisions.

General and administrative expense was $1.6 million for each of the three months ended June 30, 2023 and 2022. As a percentage of total revenue, general and administrative was 38% in the second quarter of 2022 and 49% in the corresponding period of 2023.

General and administrative expense was $3.1 million for each of the six months ended June 30, 2023 and 2022. As a percentage of total revenue, general and administrative was 35% in the six months ended June 30, 2022 and 41% in the corresponding period of 2023.

We expect general and administrative expense to increase in absolute dollars, but to generally decrease as a percentage of net revenues, while fluctuating depending on specific activities in a period.

Interest Income. Interest income increased from $0.1 million in the three months ended June 30, 2022 to $0.3 million in the three months ended June 30, 2023.

Interest income increased from $0.1 million in the six months ended June 30, 2022 to $0.6 million in the six months ended June 30, 2023.

The dollar increase in interest income was primarily due to higher interest rates related to our marketable securities of U.S Treasury notes and corporate bonds during the three and six months ended June 30, 2023, as well as higher interest rates within our money market accounts.

Income taxes. We had no income tax benefit for the three and six months ended June 31, 2023 and 2022.

The Coronavirus Aid, Relief and Economic Security Act (CARES Act) was signed into law on March 27, 2020. The Act contained specific relief and stimulus measures including allowing net operating losses originating in 2018 through 2020 to be carried back five years to offset taxable income in the carryback period.

Separately, the enactment of the Tax Cut and Jobs Act in 2017 allowed taxpayers to claim a refund for federal tax credits over a period of years. The CARES Act enacted during the first quarter allows for the entire amount of the credit to be refunded.

We have reviewed the impact of the CARES Act enactment on the income tax provision and have determined that, as a result of the net operating loss carryback provision, we can obtain a tax benefit if we were to carry back the 2020 net operating loss to the five year carryback period.

The carryback of the estimated loss would result in a refundable federal tax credit of approximately $1.5 million and an increase in research credit carryforwards previously utilized. The federal tax credit can be refunded in the future, as we decided to carry back the loss reported on the filed 2020 tax return. Upon filing our 2020 tax return and the related carry back claim that is on file with the IRS as of June 30, 2023 we classified the federal tax credit as a current receivable which has yet to be received as of June 30, 2023. Due to the recent loss history, continued investments in the Company, and our future projections of income, we will benefit from the 2020 loss to the extent of the available tax refund and will maintain a full valuation allowance on all other deferred tax assets, including any increase in research credit carryforward resulting from a potential carryback.

We maintained a full valuation allowance against our net deferred tax assets as of June 30, 2023 and December 31, 2022.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

At June 30, 2023, we had cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities of $25.1 million, which represented a decrease of $3.9 million from December 31, 2022. The decrease in cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities was primarily due to the impact of $3.6 million of cash used in operating activities and $0.3 million of cash for repurchases of our common stock.

While we cannot assure you that we will not require additional financing, or that such financing will be available to us, we believe that our cash and cash equivalents will be sufficient to fund our operations for at least the next twelve months from the date of this filing and to meet our known long-term cash requirements. Whether these resources are adequate to meet our liquidity needs beyond that period will depend on our future growth, operating results, and the investments needed to support our operations. If we require additional capital resources, we may utilize available funds or additional external financing.

To date, inflation has not had a material impact on our financial results. There can be no assurance, however, that inflation will not adversely affect our financial results in the future.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

See Note 1 to our Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 1.

ITEM 4: Controls and Procedures

Under the supervision and with the participation of our management, including the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, we have evaluated the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures as required by Exchange Act Rule 13a-15(b) as of the end of the period covered by this report. Based on that evaluation, the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer have concluded that these disclosure controls and procedures are effective.

There were no changes in our internal control over financial reporting during the quarter ended June 30, 2023 that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

PART II. OTHER INFORMATION

ITEM 1: Legal Proceedings

From time to time we are involved in litigation incidental to the conduct of our business. We are not party to any lawsuit or proceeding that, in our opinion, is material to our business.

ITEM 1A: Risk Factors

Investing in our common stock involves a high degree of risk. Our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2022 includes a detailed discussion of our risk factors under the heading “Part I, Item 1A—Risk Factors.” There have been no material changes from such risk factors during the three months ended June 30, 2023. You should consider carefully the risk factors discussed in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2022, and all other information contained in or incorporated by reference in this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q before making an investment decision. If any of the risks discussed in the Annual Report on Form 10-K or herein actually occur, they may materially harm our business, financial condition, operating results, cash flows or growth prospects. As a result, the market price of our common stock could decline, and you could lose all or part of your investment. Additional risks and uncertainties that are not yet identified or that we think are immaterial may also materially harm our business, financial condition, operating results, cash flows or growth prospects and could result in a complete loss of your investment.

ITEM 2: Unregistered Sales of Equity Securities and Use of Proceeds Issuer Purchases of Equity Securities

On March 3, 2022, we announced that our board of directors had approved the repurchase of up to $10,000,000 of our common stock from time to time through December 31, 2023. During the three and six months ended June 30, 2023 we purchased 0 and 190,908 shares under this plan, respectively.

As of June 30, 2023 the dollar value of shares that may be purchased under the plan is $8,347,113.
